SOCIETY OF ECONOMIC GEOLOGISTS

The Annual Technical Sessions of the Society of Economic Geologists, which were to have been held in New York City, February 19 to 22, were cancelled in deference to the general request by the government that meetings calling for extensive travel be cancelled when possible. However, the Annual Business Meeting of the Society and the meeting of its Council were held on February 20 in New York City. After the dinner at the Harvard Club, attended by forty-five members and guests, announcement was made of the election of the following new officers:

President Elect (1946): W. O. Hotchkiss.

First Vice-President Elect (1946): J. Terry Duce.

Councilors (1945-47): George M. Fowler, F. M. Cameron, T. G. Moore.

Regional Vice-Presidents (1945): Alfred Brammall (Europe), J. M. S. Krishnan (Asia), R. A. Pelletier (Africa), George Hanson (N. America), O. H. Leonardos (S. America), R. Lockhart Jack (Australia).

Fifteen new members were declared elected.

A brief business session was followed by an address, entitled "Economic Geology," by the retiring President John M. Boutwell.

The new officers for 1945 are: O. E. Meinzer, President; T. B. Nolan, First Vice-President; J. T. Singewald, Jr., Treasurer; C. H. Behre, Jr., Secretary; and the Regional Vice-Presidents and Councilors mentioned above.
