MINERALOGICAL SOCIETY OF AMERICA

Announcement of Annual Meeting

The forty-fourth annual meeting of the Mineralogical Society of America will be held in New York City, November 18-20, 1963, in conjunction with the annual meetings of the Geological Society of America, the Paleontological Society, the Society of Vertebrate Paleontology, the Society of Economic Geologists, the Geochemical Society and the National Association of Geology Teachers.

The meeting will be held at the Hotel Commodore. Circulars giving information about the meeting have already been sent to all members.

The annual luncheon will be held at noon on Tuesday, November 19. Following the luncheon the Roebling Medal will be presented to John Frank Schairer and the Mineralogical Society of America Award to Nobuo Morimoto.

AMERICAN GEOPHYSICAL UNION

SECTION OF VOLCANOLOGY, GEOCHEMISTRY, AND PETROLOGY

The 3rd annual western meetings of the American Geophysical Union are scheduled to take place in December at the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colorado. All abstracts of contributed papers should have been sent to Dr. Irving Friedman, Isotope Geology Branch, U. S. Geology Survey, Denver Federal Center, Denver 25, Colorado, by October 10, 1963. As in the past, the section will present programs on volcanology, geochemistry, and petrology. Further information can be obtained from David R. Wones, U. S. Geological Survey, Washington 25, D. C.

THE S. F. EMMONS MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIP

This fellowship in economic geology will again be available for the academic year 1964-65. It carries a stipend of $2800. Applicants must present credentials showing their capacity to do advanced graduate work and must present a promising subject for study. The university at which the investigation is to take place must be suitably staffed and equipped to assure the success of the project. Further information may be obtained from Professor Alan M. Bateman of Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, Professor Chas. H. Behre, Jr., of Columbia University, New York 27, N. Y., or Professor Eugene N. Cameron of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis., all three in care of the Geology Department. The necessary application forms should be obtained by writing to Professor Behre, Secretary of the S. F. Emmons Memorial Fellowship Awards Committee, at the above address. Applications must be filed by February 1, 1964, in order to be considered, and the award will be announced shortly thereafter.

Prof. Oscar W. Oelsner, Director of the Institute for Mineralogy and Ore Deposits, The Mining Academy of Freiberg, Germany, died August 13, 1963 at the age of 62.
